SURE I MADE IT! says Miss 4-H'er. And she can make many more goods guaranteed to please any young man's appetite—and female, too. She's learning all about foods and nutrition in a 4-H Club project of the same name.

At least three-quarter million 4-H Club members are participating in the project this year which has a new name and a new award sponsor. It's called the 4-H Foods-Nutrition program and offers incentive awards for best project achievement at county, state and national levels. The National 4-H Service Committee has announced. The new award donors are General Foods Corporation of White Plains, N. Y. While local 4-H support is already established in some areas by 4-H people, the foods program marks the firm's first national 4-H educational program sponsorship.

The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the work done in building the program's eight objectives. Local volunteer leaders teach the young cooks. Beginners start a project with simple, familiar things such as listing what they like to eat, what they don't like, and foods they've never tasted. They copy the same technique to cooking knowledge, and try to change and improve both areas. The more advanced members practice meal planning, cooking, serving and efficient shopping. Use Extension Service reports.

Outdoor cooking and party fare, and the three-meals-a-day routine are examined and explored, making the entire project an exciting experience. The member who does the best job will be named state winner, and will be a delegate to the 4th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next fall. All expenses will be paid for by General Foods.

National 4-H college scholarships are awaiting the six highest scoring individuals selected from all state winners.

Miss Bryan Is Honor Guest At Party For Seniors

Eight of Elba High's graduates breakfasted at a local restaurant Saturday, last week, when Mrs. Shirley Carpenter and Mrs. James Bessell entertained in honor of Yvonne Bryan.

The hostesses met each guest at the door taking pulse and temperature using a peppermint stick as a thermometer. The table cover was white and adorned with pink roses and pink ribbons, their class colors.

A doll belonging to Yvonne, dressed in white cap and gown stood at one end giving the validity. And at each place there was a diploma, rolled scroll washion, and a tiny doll wearing a cap and gown, for a souvenir.

A six-branched candlestick burning pink candles graced the opposite end of the table.

Those present for this event were the honoree, Yvonne Bryan, her mother, Mrs. Wayland Bryan, Ella A. Allen, Henriette Dorsey, Jeanne Warr, Patsy May, Mary John Smith, Martha Cooper, Shirley Johnson, and the hostesses.

Member of School Board Half Century Dead at Age of 84

William Jesse Brown, member of the Coffee County Board of Education for a half-century, died Thursday, May 18, at his home at Zion Chapel where he had lived almost his entire lifetime. He was 84 years old.

Mr. Brown was born Nov. 29, 1876, in Josie community, Pike county, the second child of James P. Brown and Anna Henderson. When he was only six years old he moved into Coffee county with his parents who filed a homestead claim and built a log cabin on the ground where a new family home was built many years later and which Mr. Brown occupied until his death.

His early education was in the old Zion Chapel school, the building being supplanted by the present modern structure. He attended Shiloh Church school, Double Head school, then went to Elba school taught by J. A. Carnley, who later became Probate Judge; attended school in Enterprise under George Thielen, entered Newton Academy, and obtained a teacher's certificate.

He began teaching in 1897 at the age of 21 in his home school at Zion Chapel, later teaching at Doubleheads, Dyess School, Lee School and Carter School.

He married Mary Clark in 1901. They had four sons and three daughters, all of whom were members of the school board. Refreshments were served by members of the home economics department under direction of Mrs. Syble Taylor.

Representing the faculty, Mrs. Zuriha Danaway told Mr. and Mrs. Casey in part: "We present this gift hoping that it will be a reminder to you of those to whom you've given so much, namely: the real meaning of a dedicated teacher; the challenging motivation of putting the welfare of the children of all the people first; the challenge to professional study and growth; the courage to forget self in the interest of the many who look to us for guidance; the example you have always been giving to so many young men and women who need so much at this hour. Our good wishes go with you."

The presentation from the Elba Colored School was made by Gaines Waters, vocational teacher, at a meeting of the teachers Friday.

Mary John Smith, president of the Senior Class, made the presentation at the final Senior Class party in the high school gym.

Cars 00, 90, 101 Win Races Saturday

Visitors at the Elba Micro Midget Races saw plenty of excitement last Saturday night at the local track even though only a few cars entered the race.

Racing fans from Dothan and Selma were expected to be on hand, but Dothan was unable to attend, which left the trophy winning to the Elba and Selma clubs.

Trophy winning changed to different hands in this race as Jack Padgett, of Elba, with car No. 90 moved into first place, Carol Marler with his Silver 00 second place and car No. 101, driven by Cullis Purish taking third place in the main event.

During the races Earl Stinson, with car No. 17 was put out of commission, also Harry Norris from Selma was out.

Two grudge races were held, the first being between Carol Marler and Jack Padgett, with Padgett winning. The second was Tylon Brooks and Earl Stinson with Brooks taking the win.

Carol Marler, president of the Elba club stated that he appreciates the interest fans have taken with the racing club, though many were disappointed when learned that the Dothan club would not be able to attend this race. He states however that they will be returning on later dates and promises lots of entertainment to all spectators.

Rhoades Home Club Held at Wise Home

The May meeting of the Rhoades Home Demonstration Club was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Wise. The meeting was one hour late due to a funeral in the community.

Mrs. Wise served refreshments as the members arrived. Mrs. Charles Mallory, vice president presided. Mrs. G. L. Gilchrist gave the evening's devotional. Mrs. B. L. Perry led the evening prayer.

Mrs. Jean Wakefield gave the evening's demonstration on Freezing Vegetables. Reports were given by the various leaders before the meeting adjourned.

Drinking Drivers Tops In Crashes

Drinking drivers took a heavy toll of human lives on the highways during 1960. The toll would have been much greater except for the fact that the highway patrol officers apprehended 3,076 drinking drivers before they had an accident, according to information released today by Floyd H. Mann, director, department of Public Safety.

He pointed out that approximately 3,425 drinking drivers were involved in accidents last year. 201 drinking driver vehicles were involved in fatal accidents which accounted for 184 of the 625 rural traffic deaths during 1960.
